CHAOS, LOVECRAFT,

"THE BIG BANG"

AND

THE CTHULHU MYTHOS

BY

FRATER SHABBATHAI

This article is mere creative speculation. I have no true training in the field of physics, other than having read the works of Peter Carroll, Aleister Crowley, Ken Grant, and Tani Jantsang et al. I say this beforehand in case one notices my flawed terms in relation to physics, so please understand the spirit of this essay as opposed to clinging too heavily on the terminology.

My previous work, "Ye Kabbalah of Ye Jollie Olde Ancient Ones" should be read in conjunction with this article. My hope is that the former will have been published by someone so that this would be possible. If not, I refer you to "Liber Kaos" by Peter J. Carroll[1], together with the collective works of August Derleth, H.P. Lovecraft, and especially Liber Al vel Legis by Aleister Crowley.

MENTAL GYMNASTICS

"Had! The manifestation of Nuit!"[2]

In "The Law Is For All"[3], Crowley defines Nuit as "Matter", and Hadit as "Motion". Nu is attributed to the North, while Had (Sat, Set, Satan, etc.) is given unto the Immediate South. Robert Turner, in his excellent "The Necronomicon: A Commentary"[4], attributes Lovecrafts' Azathoth (the Hidden South) and Yog Sothoth (Immediate South) to the South, and Shub-Niggurath to the "Gate of the North Wind". This contains an interesting formula, which I will cover in depth later. For now, however, think about Hadit/Motion/Kosmos/Satan as being attributed to the South, the traditional path of "Evil", while Lovecrafts "Satan", Shub-Niggurath is called into this world through the North. I will return to this topic later.

The ancient Gnostics were in possession of knowledge that we have simply lost contact with, out of fear and ignorance. Lovecraft is going to live forever through his Work because it contains erratic fragments of what we as a species have lost contact with. This is why the Cthulhu Mytho's appeal to so many people; the stories contain fragments of a "faith forgotten". I am going to assume that the reader is not new to the field of Magick, and that he or she has knowledge of the Cthulhu Mythos, because it would take too much time to explain this as well as cover the points I wish to touch upon. Once again, I hope you have access to "Kabbalah of Ye Jollie Olde Ancient Ones".

I have been working very hard to formulate a theory of "how this Universe came about", it's connection with the Ancient Ones, and it's link to modern physics and the "Big Bang" theory, and how this could perhaps also tie into Darwin's theory of evolution. I think that, after reading a lot of books and meditating on what I read, as well as working with Linda Falorio's highly recommended "Shadow Tarot"[5], I may have found the basis for such speculations. This is the sum result of studying from diverse sources, so please don't call my a plagiarist.
Okay, here we go.

IN THE BEGINNING.....

Before Time, there was only Space. The first chapter Of Genesis speaks of the "spirit of God" who is "hovering over the Waters". These "Waters" are infinite space; Chaos; Nuit. The "Spirit of God" is Motion; Hadit; the Elder Gods.

The Ancient Ones were Pure Matter, Primal and with no Form. They wandered throughout Nothing. Pure Matter, no Form.

Motion occurs, the Gnostics called this "Kosmos". The "Kosmos" is the result of a massive explosion; "God" uttering "let there be light". Perhaps entering into this galaxy through a "Black Hole" (I simply don't know), Energy arrived into this "Great, Formless Nothing" (I.E. the "Waters" that "God"/Kosmos came to hover upon), and the result was a massive explosion on a Universal scale. Consider an atomic bomb, which produces a massive detonation by the simple altering of MATTER!

Okay, where were we? Ah yes. Motion detonates into Matter, and our Space/Time continuum is the cataclysmic result, which is the "fiery Son Horus". The major creation of this explosion is our Sun, which is like a continuous atomic explosion. Matter mixed with Motion produced the Planets which orbit "The Fiery Son". This was a completely spontaneous occurrence, so thus some planets were farther away from the Sun and thus Earth was in a perfect position to nurture another random offspring of the Kosmos explosion; the Cell.

The Earth was not like it is now. Covered with water, and Frozen. The molecular Cells were the only life forms, and they contained within themselves the only link we now have to them; the DNA. As millenniums pass, these Cells are randomly attracted to one another, and physical shapes begin to form, probably like what are now called "jellyfish", and what Lovecraft called "Shoggoths".

The Ice begins to melt because of monstrous volcanic explosions. Millions of years pass, the shoggoths begin to mutate. Perhaps at this point alien life forms populate the earth, and they hunt and eat the shoggoths (romantic speculation). Anyway, as the shoggoths mutate and are fused together (I.E. "God" tells Adam "Go Ye Forth And MULTIPLY"), different life forms begin to evolve in the ocean, and as the Sun melts the ice, along with volcanic activity, these life forms begin to crawl out of the ocean. These were dinosaurs.

Due to the fact that the primal Cell mutated in random ways, some life forms were cold blooded and some warm blooded. Some were amphibious and some adapted to land. Somehow, sometime, the primal ancestor of Man emerged from the Deep.

Darwin takes over from this stage.

If we consider the human Cell, with it's mysterious DNA, as a random result of the pre-cosmic explosion, then we can then deduce why there is so much recurring interest in "The Ancient Ones". It can then be understood "why" Simon writes in his (their) "Necronomicon"[6] that we humans were created "from the Blood of the Ancient Ones". We are the sum result of their (The Ancient Ones/Matter) copulation with Kosmos/Hadit/Motion.

The DNA is our link with the ancient past. It has many characteristics not presently understood by science, such as etheric qualities which enable us to have a "soul" and be "reborn" in different incarnations. Our DNA is what makes us remember past lives. In other words, if you were a Sufi Philosopher/Poet in the 1500's, I would be willing to bet that this incarnations' DNA would be similar, if not identical to that which you possess now. I am not a doctor or a scientists, so understand that this is merely my hypothesis.

MAN'S FOLLY

One of the current thrusts of modern occultism is the re-discovery of Shamanism, as evidenced by the recent re-emergence and popularity of the Voudon System (of which I know basically nothing). Chaos Magick has taken the path os Shamanism, as defined in the works of Peter Carroll, and they (Chaoists) believe that "Nothing is True" in the sense that any system of magick is but an organized and symbolic "system", or "Map of the Universe", which is merely a veil that, if lifted, leads the initiate to the knowledge that any definition of the gods is valid; because they are all but "pictures" or "clues" which lead one to the same, Ultimate source, which they call "Chaos".

Shamanism is being discovered as being the most un-blinded path, because Man in his folly has set up too many roadblocks between Himself and His Origin. The farther one goes back into history, we see that the "gods" are not personal, they are not "one"; but many. In other words, as we evolve, we have sought to separate ourselves from the Source, but since our DNA still cries out to be UNCHAINED, we feel "spiritual" inclinations. However, we have misdirected these impulses by deciding to worship our own image, which is known in the West as "Jesus", who was a man. "Satan" has been deemed as anything which deviates from this folly.

The pagans of antiquity were said to have possessed many magickal powers. This is probably true, due to the fact that human beings had not evolved enough yet to consciously deny the impulses of their DNA. We cannot only blame Christianity for our downfall; if you inspect most of the worlds major religions, including modern Islam, Buddhism, and Hinduism you will find that most, if not all of these "religions" now worship Man, in a twisted way, seeking to cut off the DNA/Spiritual expressions of Man in the form of sexual repression, Intellectual stagnation, and guilt/self loathing.

Galaxies do not live forever. We have unwittingly "opened the Gates" to the Ancient Ones because we have severed our link with our DNA, with the exception of magickians, who are involved with the "Great Work" of reclaiming and integrating themselves (body/microcosm) with their DNA (the psyche/macrocosm). The psychic currents and energy fields being thrust into our earth/sphere by the hoards of humanity is what is causing the current world crisis', violence, religious mania, and also causing the weather to be so bizarre, complete with blizzards in the month of March, floods, and devastating hurricanes and tornadoes. In other words, by our spiritual folly we are, as a collective species producing actual etheric energy, which is drawing in unwanted magnetic-etheric responses from outside our space/time continuum. This is what is known as "awakening Cthulhu", or calling in the Ancient Ones.

When Crowley wrote that the Universe will be Harmonious when "all the stars are aright" he was talking about we as humans getting our collective shit together and perfecting our bio-physical/spiritual links with our DNA and the macrocosm. If this does not happen, we, in our folly, are going to call into our solar system the same KOSMOS/Energy-motion which will destroy this particular system, causing what is commonly referred to as a "Black Hole". In other words, as long as religious systems like Islam and Fundamental Christianity reign supreme, we are in dire danger, and the world will continue to experience tremendous disaster.

Consider the fact that the civil war in eastern europe is the result of racial and religious creeds. These people are merely experiencing the fire of their DNA, commonly mistaken and misdirected as religious fanaticism. Thus, through their ignorance they have collectively produced etheric vibrations which have caused them to demonstrate remarkable imbalance--madness--and as a result they are doing the only thing they can do; destroy themselves. This is always the result of massive DNA repression, as in Hitler and Nazi Germany, the Crusades, etc. Once one defines their spirituality through humanistic causes or creeds, the process of severing themselves from their pre-cosmic origin begins, and thus the only possible result is mass destruction, death and general madness. This has been the case for all eternity.

It is up to each human being to regain his or her link with Chaos/Infinite Space. It is called the "Great Work" because it might just save our planet.

These theories, incidently, unite both the theory of evolution and the idea of Creation, because as it was the result of this pre-cosmic explosion, both theories are actually the same. Another interesting thing to think about is that this theory also reinforces the primitive concept of Animism, as it proves that there is a spark of the divine in all things, as all things came from this explosion. Also, it shows that all living things are in fact inter-related, from the lowest insect to the highest man, as they are but different random combinations of Cells, some more evolved than others. Thus, this planet is one big, beautiful, intertwined web of life forms, all being distant cousins to one another.

To prove that primal cell-structures can and do exist is sub-arctic and arctic conditions, as they did millions of years ago, you should think about the clusters of plankton that live in antarctica, encased in icebergs and looking like huge yellow blankets within the Ice. This is "Kadath in Ye Cold Waste".

TEN RANDOM OCCURRENCES: "WHY" THERE ARE TEN NUMERALS

When Matter collided with Motion, the result was our particular Solar System, as briefly described above. There was Nothing (except pure Matter) before this.

There were ten distinct bodies born out of this explosion; we refer to them as the ten planets; Earth, Mercury, Mars, Venus, Saturn, Jupiter, Neptune, Uranus, Pluto; and the "hub" which these planets revolve around, Sol; the Sun. You will counter that the Moon is not included in my roster; well, the Moon--Luna--is actually a rock orbiting our planet, Earth. The Moon is distinct in an etheric/occultic manner, but it is still not an independent body.

I believe that the Cell was created at the same time. This is "why" we have ten numerals; 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9.

The Hebrew mysticists who devised the Ten Sephiroth did not have the high tech surveillance equipment that we now possess, and what is truly remarkable is the fact that somehow they arrived at the conclusion that the "body of God" consisted of ten units. I will discuss in the next section "why" humans have always somehow stumbled across Primal Truth.

It is important to note that Crowley, in the Book Of Thoth, goes to very great length to define the Qabalah numerically, explaining how the numbers 0-9 perfectly explain our Solar System. He also went to great lengths in his life to document most of the religious and mythological systems of Man, and how they are all interchangeable numerically, etc. The numbers 0-9 have been imprinted in our DNA, due to primal Cell/memory, and since the Cell was created at the same time the Cataclysmic Explosion occurred, we are made aware, through heredity, of the fact that Ten distinct bodies were formed at the same time.

THE "COLLECTIVE UNCONSCIOUS": THE ETHERIC BLANKET: META-PLASM

I am not a Jungian Adept, but I am aware of his description of the "collective Unconscious" of the human race.

Magick does not get conveyed as much through words as it does through "magickal alphabets"; set's of symbols. These symbols are universal keys. Put a man on a deserted island from birth, and he will still figure out circles, triangles, squares, crosses, etc. This is because the "blanket" surrounding our Home, the planet Earth, is actually the etheric substance generated by the collective DNA of the human species. This ether, or "Spirit", is contacted via symbols and shapes, which all correspond in some way to our Solar System.

SNAB #1

The Ancients, when trying to explain their existence, looked to the stars, not just the sky/atmosphere like Christians do. The knew that there were ten numbers, but they only were aware of 7 "planets" (sun and moon included). Thus, they divided the "heavens" into twelve different idea's--defined mathematically by different clusters of stars and our Sun's position in them--and these ideas they gave different archetypical meanings. This is now called the Zodiac. It is the most simple, yet complete, system of archetypical forces/ideas, when the ten planets are included.

Our Universe, or Solar System, came into being when Motion entered into our area of the galaxy. Before this, there was only the Ancient Ones. This is why Lovecraft describes the Ancient Ones--and their dimensions--as "weird, Cyclopean, Bizarre geometrical shapes and angles, not made or comprehended by Human's". You see, we cannot truly understand or comprehend these forces because DNA/God only came into being after these forces dissipated and mingled with Motion. Thus, we only have "dim" recollections, which is usually the simple result of remembering an ancient incarnation as a human being, before we as a race lost our link with our DNA. The Ancient Ones were partially remembered and worshipped by the Ancients, and thus our memory derives from this. But DNA cannot know or recall these entities in their true form unless one becomes a Buddha/Ipsissimis.

Each human being excretes metaplasm. This is our etheric web, which we generate simply by being alive. Science is close to realizing this. This etheric substance is our "life force", or Kia, which is generated on a basic level by our DNA. This ether, on a planetary scale, is collected in the atmosphere, and this is what Carroll calls "Baphomet". The etheric blanket which surrounds our planet, which is the collective metaplasm of the entire Human species, is what is more commonly referred to as "the collective Unconscious". On a microcosmic scale, this is realized once we have begun the process of "reading our files", which is to say when we begin, through magickal means, to communicate with our DNA. On a macrocosmic scale, the collective etheric body of the human race--the Collective Unconscious--is called the Astral Plane.

This etheric body is what a non-perfected (DNA completed) human "essence" returns to at death, merely to exist, complete with all memories of all previous incarnations, until the proper DNA configuration is provided on Earth--a human birth--and then this "essence" enters the human vessel. The problem with defining this "essence" as a "soul", at least exoterically, is that one is led to believe that this "soul" is independent of the human being, existing in a perfect state. This is not true. The kia is only the spark of a man. His Holy Guardian Angel is the symbolic face of this kia, drawn out of the collective etheric body, and given a "personality" via an advanced magickians potent link with the Astral Plane.

The reason that humans always seem to "blunder" into Primal Truth is the fact that their DNA is trying to "tell them something". For example, the reason the scientists who discovered the planet Pluto named it "Pluto"--called Yuggoth in the Cthulhu Mythos--is the fact that Pluto is "the end". It is the last planet in our particular space-time continuum. Pluto, the God of the Underworld, is thus simply the End. These scientists were not magickians, they were simply acting on a genetically coded memory.

This is why there are only ten digits; every number beyond 9 is simply the sum or multiplication of 2 or more of the 10 originals. In other words, whoever invented numbers was acting on a primal impulse, as their DNA was trying to communicate, and the fact that this person or group of people invented such a Holy System as Numbers probably means that they or he attained Buddhahood a long time ago.

MORE ABOUT CELLS

A Cell exists only to increase itself. This is why cancer kills people; "malignant" cell's cluster and multiply, unknowingly causing damage to the fragile animal body. A cell is only concerned with survival and procreation; this is the secret of magick and the reason we were able to eventually slither out of the ocean.

Metaphysically, our DNA is up to the same purpose. It seeks to perfect itself. I don't know why no other magickian (at least that I am aware of) hasn't figured this out yet. Our DNA is the generator of our kia. The evolution of our particular kia is determined by ones evolution "spiritually", usually meaning the level of magickal/mystical Awareness one has acquired in previous incarnations. The only way this awareness can be physically continued is through our DNA.

We are constantly evolving. There will come a day, if we don't destroy ourselves, when we will be able to do the work of a thousand computers in our own brains.

THE ENOCHIAN LANGUAGE

This language is the only true magickal language, as it has nothing in common with any known human language, yet after many scholarly examinations, it stands up to the fact that it is a language, complete with it's own syntax, grammar, and spelling. This is a further example of what Lovecraft was trying to say when he wrote about "weird, unhuman shapes". This language is a vital link to the etheric body and beyond. It produces vibratory patterns which manipulate unseen dimensions and the "aethyrs" of Dee and the Gnostics are in fact Portals, which can be opened by the language, and lead to the entities which exist outside the circles of our space-time continuum.

THE "MYSTERY" OF FISH SYMBOLISM

This is actually no mystery. The reason that the fish is a universal archetype is because we originate from the sea. This is why the Sumerians worshipped Dagon, and why even the Christians symbolize Jesus with a fish symbol. Jesus never lived in the ocean, by the way.

The ultimate course of our DNA is "obliteration", that is to say, to "return to where it came from". It's (the DNA's) first memories are from the ocean, and this is why it has expressed itself in mythologies such as "the flood" of the Old Testament and the idea of Cthulhu lying "Dead But Dreaming" under the sea somewhere. Man has always worshipped the ocean in some way. We came from the sea. This is also why the element of water is considered the "emotional" element.

THE FORMULA OF TETRAGRAMMATON

Simple. This is more than likely the ultimate Arcanum; the mastery of the DNA molecule. The reason that the Hebrew's considered this name "un-utterable", and why they thought that when someone learned how to correctly pronounce this word the world would be destroyed is because it will be destroyed: once human beings learn all the secrets of the DNA, they will be able to clone human beings, and therefore the world will be destroyed for two reasons;

1. When humans become immortal, overpopulation will result, and

2. We will have to create massive war's and commit random genocide in order to survive.

THE IDIOCY OF MONOTHEISM

The problem of monotheism is that it limits the DNA. As I wrote earlier, the Cell exists primarily to create. The creative Spirit of Man is thus the active expression of the DNA.

Sex, Art, and other creative acts are supreme, Holy expressions of our kia. It is only by these acts that we can attain to Obliteration (more on that later). We have systematically cut ourselves off from our Primal Origin by repressing our DNA--thus, our creative spirit--and this is commonly done by limiting our awareness through the restriction of self-worship, which is what monotheism actually is.

We as a species are the result of a cosmic explosion. Our cells were created, in a very basic way, and thus we are in fact true representations of the Universe--"as above, so below"--and it is only through creative exploration and expression that we can realize our link with Nuit. We carry in our very bodies the Seed of the Universe; DNA.

The holy representation of the Universe is Ten numbers; when we limit this into ONE number we are actually trying to produce a "personal savior", which is to say we are actually worshipping our outward image. Any monotheistic religion (and I mean any) draws pictures of what they think "god" is as a human. Either a young, dying MAN, or an old MAN. They don't understand that our outward appearance is only a molecular structure which is a mask. If our bodies where constructed in even subtly different molecular patterns we might be made out of metal!

My point is this; we are in big trouble as a species. When we restrict ourselves by practicing monotheistic-human-body worship, we create turmoil and massive etheric "irritation" within our cell structure and our DNA, which is why monotheistic religions are OBSESSED with restriction and death...they FEEL this turmoil, and instead of saving a lot of incarnations by rejecting their idiot faith they pile up the "thou shalt nots", thus creating even more DNA meltdown. This is what I mentioned at the beginning of this article. This "meltdown" produces etheric vibrations which psychically draw into our sphere malevolent energy, which then results in general violence and madness.

If you doubt what I just wrote I ask that you refer to any history book. Every monotheistic religion, again and again, engages in "holy wars", "spiritual purges" (like the Witch Trials), and many other insane practices. When we repress our kia, and thus cause our DNA to atrophy, only misery, madness, despair, and death can logically follow. This is what the "four horsemen" of Revelation are, by the way.

When Crowley wrote about the necessity of "every star being aright", he must have been talking about the general rejection of monotheism in any form, and the striving of the human species towards the integration of opposites; the uniting of Nuit/Matter with Hadit/motion. This results, ultimately, in Buddhahood, or the Grade of Ipsissimis.

WHAT A BUDDHA IS

This thought just came to me. What a Buddha is, is a kia which has reached DNA perfection. I'll explain it in simple terms.

We evolved from a simple cell. The only link we have to that cell is our DNA, which must be evolved to the point where it "goes full circle"; returning from whence it came.

The most notorious claim of Liber Oz is the phrase "There is no God But Man". This, I have already theorized, means that DNA is God. When we mistake our human appearance as "god", we miss the point completely. This is why magickians will tell you "you are God, my friend"! This is what is meant by the phrase

"The Khabs is in the Khu, not the Khu in the Khabs"[7]

Perhaps we could paraphrase this as "The DNA is in the Man/Woman, not the Man/Woman in the DNA".

The Ultimate goal of magick--even if you become a "Brother of the Left Hand Path" for a few incarnations--is to "dissolve" one's Self/kia with the Universe. This is done by recreating the pre-cosmic explosion on a microcosmic scale. Obliteration.

The reason this sounds so distasteful to us is because we cannot understand this concept, due to our inherent fear of "death" and also because of our monotheistic conditioning. This is only conquered by magickal advancement over many incarnations.

I believe "Obliteration" is spoken of in this verse from Liber Legis;

"I Give unimaginable joys on earth: certainty, not faith, while in life, upon death; peace unutterable, rest ecstasy; nor do I demand aught in sacrifice".[8]

SHAB #1

In other words, once one has attained the Ultimate Awareness, one's essence is freed from physical incarnation. But, since this person would have to live out the rest of their physical life, they are superior humans--Buddha's--Ipsissimis--and since they have seen the mysteries that lay beyond our space-time continuum, they shall discourse in a superior manner to all of humanity.

Others disagree, but I personally believe that the last Buddha was Crowley. The main argument against this line of thinking is the fact that he (Crowley) was not the nicest person while here on earth; he could be, and frequently was, an asshole. However, what does outward behavior have to do with attainment, other than perhaps providing a blind? Crowley was a bona-fide Buddha.

Now, what happens to a Buddha upon death is interesting. Their DNA, having finished it's existence, "Implodes"--collapses--and the result is a massive etheric explosion, exactly like the original pre-cosmic cataclysm, except it occurs etherically. This is why when men of great spiritual development die their disciples talk about "earthquakes", gusts of wind, etc. This is in fact the physical phenomena of a kia which has achieved Ultimate union with Matter.

Thus, the life force of the Buddha/Ipsissimis is ABSORBED into the Universe, into every single molecule. They (The Buddha) thus literally become the Universe. They are God. Their essence is contained in every object, living and dead, seen and unseen, solid or fluid. They are in all, and most importantly, they are in us. This is the ultimate expansion of consciousness!

Perhaps part of their essence is forwarded to another Universe outside of our own, I don't know. Perhaps they go to a secret dimension, to become one of the Secret Chiefs; I don't know. But remember this; the essence of a Buddha is in all things, and therefore they never leave us.

A QUICK NOTE ON GEMATRIA

The Ten Numbers, as you recall, are Holy. Therefore the only true test of a word, idea, or phenomena, is to add it up according to it's numeric value. This is the magickal combination, multiplication, and division of the Ten Original Occurrences. This is why Crowley devoted most of his adult life to Qabalah, Gematria, and the Great Work. Numbers are, after all, the most Perfect representation of our Solar System

FINALLY

If you read this far, you probably think I am a madman by now.....well, I am a madman. I assure you that this essay is the result of intense Inspiration on my behalf. It may be totally off base. It is just one way of looking at our Universe, and I have arrived at these conclusions through intense, diverse study, often at the very risk of my own sanity. I wrote this in one day, and I am therefore sure that I left many idea's out. The reason I never go back and "edit" or "correct" my Work is because it is better to let each act of Inspiration stand on it's own. Mistakes can be corrected in further articles.

Call me what you will. I don't know how I figured these things out. They have come to me "while I wasn't looking". I think I dreamed some of this. The point is, that it is now on paper, and you have read it, and you can take it or leave it according to how developed your own DNA is.
